Volunteers needed for research project on repetitive behaviour and imagination in autism

Who can take part?

Any adult (over 18 years) who has a clinical diagnosis of an autism spectrum disorder.

What does it involve?

We are interested in repetitive behaviours and imagination in autism. You will need to read and answer three short questionnaires, including writing short summaries. This also includes writing about your childhood. This is an online study, and should take around 10-20 minutes.

What happens to all the information?

All the information provided will be anonymous and will not be traceable back to you.

How can I take part?

Please contact Sarah Barrett (BarrettSL2@cardiff.ac.uk) for more details about the study.
